

Palette Gallery opened in September 2014 on the "arts block" of Cookman Ave in Asbury Park, NJ. We focus on painting and mixed media works by early and mid-career artists.

In addition to the main gallery, we have a section of small original works and prints. In Dec 2015 we added a section to our large space that offers sandwiches and light fare with longer hours, dramatically increasing foot traffic. We will continue to host live music (such as Light of Day Festival, Asbury Underground, and our own Singers on the Half-Shell series), open mic, and film.

Palette Gallery has been highlighted in the NY Times. We're committed to the burgeoning art scene in Asbury Park. Please also see our page on Facebook which has photos from past shows and exhibits as well.

Submissions: please familiarize yourself with the gallery and what we show before submitting. Submit a link to your website if you feel your work is appropriate.
